Get to know Winans Coffee + Chocolates + Wine in our OPEN* Business Spotlight!

In this series, we profile some of the small businesses that make downtown great! We ask a series of questions about each business, letting them tell you about themselves in their own words, including their background, what services they offer, how they're responding to the pandemic challenges, and more. It's a great way to learn more about your favorite businesses, or discover a new spot you may not be familiar with yet.

This week, Whitney Wedding tells us about doing something she never imagined: opening a business in the middle of a pandemic.

Support Our Local Small Businesses When They Need You the Most!

The pandemic has been hard on all of us. So much of what we consider normal has changed, and we've all had to find ways to adapt. In downtown Dayton, the pandemic has been especially difficult for our great collection of independent small businesses who provide the products and services we love. We encourage you to continue to support these local businesses during this difficult time in any way you can. They're the backbone of our community, and they need our support more than ever.

If you miss your favorite local, independent businesses, check out our lists of what's OPEN*. We've put together a list of downtown restaurants with carry out, curbside pickup, or delivery services, as well as those open outdoor or indoor. Many of our retail and service businesses also have found creative ways to continue doing what they do. Check out virtual experiences and other ways to stay busy and have fun with our OPEN* - Things to Do page!

Now, more than ever, it's a great time to support local businesses and Be Downtown.

#Outon5th Returns to the Oregon District

Dayton's Out on 5th is back! Out on 5th is the street closure of Fifth Street in downtown Dayton's Oregon District from Patterson Boulevard to Wayne Avenue every Friday night through Sunday evening. So make plans to head to the Oregon District to safely shop, dine and relax in the open air!

The Oregon District is a "Designated Outdoor Refreshment Area," that allows patrons 21+ to purchase alcoholic beverages in a designated cup from permitted establishments and carry the beverages within a defined area. You can take your to-go beverage around the designated DORA, relaxing outdoors, or while you're shopping -- look for the DORA stickers on the entrances of participating retailers, and sip while you shop. Be sure to finish your DORA beverage before you enter another bar or restaurant.

CenterPoint Energy Dayton Air Show July 10- 11, 2021
Drive-In Format

CenterPoint Energy Dayton Air Show officials announced that the 2021 CenterPoint Energy Dayton Air Show Presented by Kroger will take off on July 10th and 11th. This year's headlining attraction will be the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds. 2021 will mark the 47th anniversary of Dayton's premier summer event held annually at the Dayton International Airport.

This year, the show will move to a "Drive-In" format to align the show with current health guidelines and ensure the safety of guests. It's a unique and very exciting development. The show will convert its spectator area to a drive-in theater-type parking lot. Guests will be able to purchase 20' x 20' Private Viewing Area using half the area to park their car and the other half to view the show in tailgate fashion

Touch Actual Moon and Mars Rocks, Explore a Mars Base Camp, Ride a Centrifuge at The National Museum of the U.S. Air Force's Space Exhibit!

Plan your visit to the National Museum of the U.S. Air Force for out of this world fun at their new Space Exhibit! This new interactive exhibit designed to spark imaginations by igniting the desire for space exploration and discovery, and inspire new generations of explorers to dream of the possibilities that lie ahead, will be on display at the National Museum of the U.S. Air Force through September 6. The exhibit, titled "SPACE: A Journey to Our Future," is being provided by Evergreen Exhibitions and allows visitors to experience explorations of the past as well as our future destiny in space. Highlights of the exhibit include touching actual rocks from the lunar surface of the moon and the red planet of Mars; exploring a Mars Base Camp while walking through a full-size habitat and work pod; taking a spin on a centrifuge that is powered like a bicycle; getting an up-close look at a wide range of artifacts from the space program; and looking into future explorations of the universe.

Note: COVID-19 safety precautions will include issuing gloves to each visitor interacting with the exhibit, as well as cleaning and sanitizing the exhibit throughout each day. Visitors ages three and up are required to wear masks during their visit to the museum.

The exhibit, which is located in the museum's fourth building, features content provided by NASA and the National Science Teachers Association, and introduces visitors to generations of dreamers and thinkers who have at times risked their lives to provide a better understanding of who we are and how we fit into the universe around us. Visitors will also meet today's explorers who are on the forefront of the search for answers to questions about the universe including how to protect it and what life exists out there.

Dayton Art Institute Open On Weekends - Check Out Exciting Exhibits

The Dayton Art Institute has reopened to the public on weekends -- Fridays and Saturdays 11 a.m. - 5 p.m., and Sundays noon - 5 p.m. Safety and health protocols are in place for visitors who can also enjoy current and upcoming special exhibits.

Bukang Y. Kim: Journey to the East, November 7, 2020–August 15, 2021: This exhibition is an immersive installation of paintings by Bukang Y. Kim, the internationally recognized Cincinnati-based artist. Inspired by the universal features of nature, Kim's paintings blend abstraction and naturalism and create a rich dialogue between East and West. The series of 10 paintings is based on the sublime Siberian landscape. Shown publicly for the first time, the paintings offer a singular meditative experience.

All By Myself: Japanese Creative Prints, September 16, 2020–September 19, 2021: The long tradition of exquisite printmaking in Japan is due, in part, to the division of labor, having different specialists handle each stage of the printmaking process: designing, carving and printing. However, in the early twentieth century certain print artists began doing everything themselves, producing what were known as sosaku-hanga, or "creative prints," which are highly individual expressions in both style and subject matter. This exhibition will present examples from several artists working within the sosaku-hanga movement, including recent acquisitions.

Fill Out Pre-Event Survey

The screenshot shows a web form for 'OH-ZONE VIRTUAL CAREER FAIR'. At the top, there are three tabs: 'About You' (highlighted in red), 'Positions', and 'Hiring'. Below the tabs, the form title is 'Virtual Career Fair' with the subtitle 'Company Registration'. The form contains three input fields: 'Company Name *', 'Address *', and 'Street Address'. A small purple circle with the number '0' is visible in the bottom right corner of the form area.

Before you set up your booth, you will need to complete the Pre-event survey. You can find the survey HERE.

The information gathered from this survey will be used to attract job seekers to the fair.

Once you have completed the survey, you will receive an email from the address: Notifications@brazen.com (See next page for reference).

This email should be sent to you within 24 hours of survey completion.

Upon receiving this email, you can begin setting up your booth.

 Brazen Technologies

Hi there,

You have been added as a booth owner for the Virtual Job Fair to be held on Thursday, March 25 at 10:00AM EDT. This means you are responsible for customizing your booth and assigning at least one representative to chat with participants during the online session.

Customize your booth now by logging in using this email address and your password, so that participants can view your booth content and learn more about your organization. Don't worry - training videos and help resources are provided below.

Attend Brazen Trainings

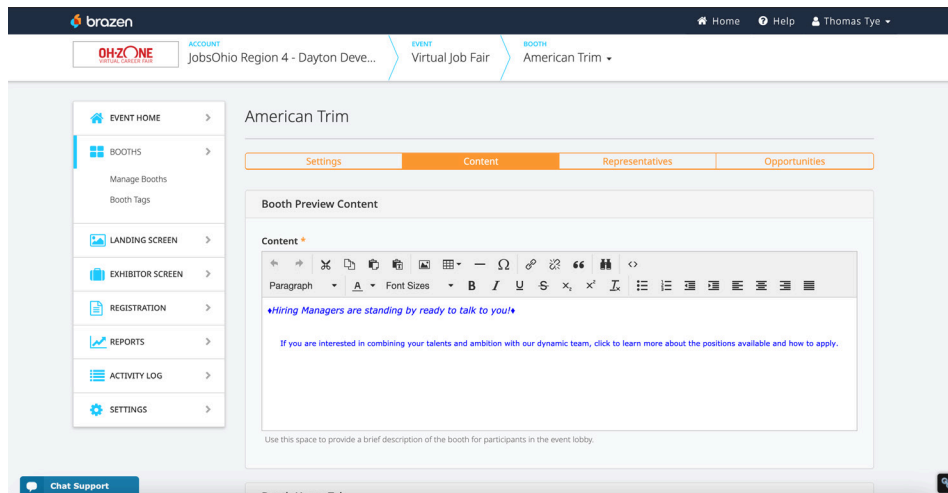

There are two trainings to watch through, the Brazen booth training and the Brazen representative training.

Each video is roughly 20 minutes in length and walks you through how to set up your booth as well as how to interact with job seekers during the event itself.

Booth owners must watch through both training pieces to know how to operate the Brazen platform for their company.

Note: If you are the booth owner, it is important to know that you are not by default a representative for the booth. You will need to navigate to the representative tab and add yourself manually.

Begin Setting Up Booth

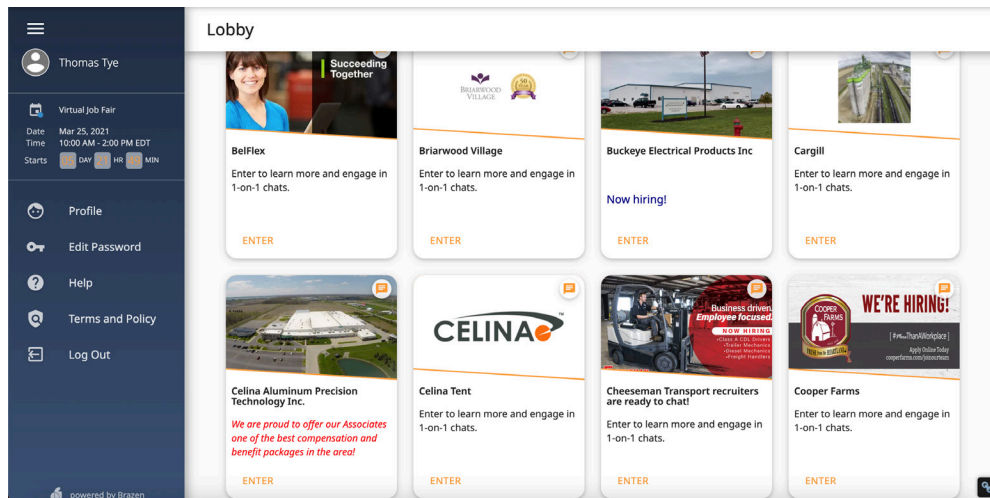

Now that you've completed both the Booth Owner training and the Representative training, you should have a good idea of how to set your booth up for the virtual career fair.

If you are struggling to complete the booth setup, we recommend reading this guide by Brazen.

If you still need help after reading the guide, visit the SOCHE website for helpful tips, or email Thomas Tye at thomas.tye@soche.org.

We are working with you through this process to make this a successful event for your business.

Attend the Event

With your booth set up and marketing deployed, you are ready for the event on Thursday, April 22, 2021, from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

You have up till 9a the day of the event to make any final adjustments to your booth. At that point, Brazen will lock all booths.

All booth representatives should log into Brazen early to be ready to talk to jobseekers via chat and video call at the start of the event.

Your SOCHE point of contact, Thomas Tye, will be available during the event if you have any issues or questions. you can contact him at thomas.tye@soche.org

Fill Out Post-Event Survey

The screenshot shows a survey form with the following sections:

- Post VCF Event Feedback-DDC (Section Title)
- Platform and Event Logistics (Section Title)
- 1. Contact Information
 - Name: [Redacted]
 - Company: [Redacted]

About the Event

Over the last year, mental health has become one of the most talked about challenges for American workers and their employers. Even with brighter days ahead, the mental health crisis is here to stay and how employers support their employees will become an employee retention and attraction issue as the economy recovers.

In partnership with the American Psychological Association, we are hosting a national conversation on why employers need to support their employees' mental health and how employers can create a supportive culture.

AM EDUCATION SESSIONS

Managing for Morale— Effective Management Techniques to Retain Your Staff

Staff retention continues to be a top priority for healthcare executives. This panel will engage senior-level managers to discuss best practices in staff retention and how to build team morale. The panel will be comprised of individuals from various backgrounds and management levels. (Pending ACHE Face-to-Face Education Credits*, AIA LUs, GBCI CEs, PDHs) *You must attend in person to receive ACHE F2F Education Credits

Kettering Health Network: A Case Study in Campus-Wide Facility Optimization to Ensure Performance for Life

Without proactive and continuous management, building systems can drift over time and diverge significantly from original design intent, wasting resources and overwhelming facility management personnel. Join HEAPY and Kettering Health Network for a case study examination of a campus-wide energy audit and retro-commissioning project and learn how a comprehensive and strategic approach to managing your facilities can lead to improved patient comfort and reduced overhead costs.

This presentation will outline a step-by-step process for how to tackle these big issues at your organization, including how to evaluate current facility performance, benchmarking against appropriate targets, prioritizing implementation, and ensuring performance for life.

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION / LUNCH

Architectural Design as a Determinant of Health

Our understanding of the role the environment plays in shaping health has expanded immensely over the last few decades. A growing body of empirical data and evidence-based design research demonstrates that architecture impacts care delivery as well as health outcomes.

This talk explores built space as an important determinant of health and questions whether the built environment itself should be considered alongside other parameters of care, analogous to our medical interventions. Historical examples of the convergence of hospital architecture and medical practice exist. The design of the tuberculosis sanatorium during the early 20th century illustrates this infrequent intersection; the healthy building emphasizing contact with nature, developed to prevent the spread of contagions. In the context of the COVID-19 global pandemic, we can revisit past models and consider new and sustainable innovations to emphasize infection prevention and control.

It is imperative that we consider a convergence of the healthcare and design disciplines in order to promote novel solutions to augment built environment resilience and subsequently support equitable, safe and efficient care delivery.

PM EDUCATION SESSIONS

Crisis Management: Strategies to Effectively Manage a Healthcare Organization

Preparing for an unplanned or unexpected event, such as a natural disaster, pandemic, civil disturbances, medical error or labor disputes (e.g., union labor) causes physical, psychological and emotional stresses that can overwhelm employees, medical staff, patients and communities. In the event of a crisis, the quality and efficiency of care delivery may be challenged, taking a toll on every part of the organization including the facilities. Dealing with the unknown or uncertainty is also a challenge that healthcare leaders face in times of crisis. Healthcare leaders must understand how to prepare their organization for unforeseen circumstances, which includes developing a communication plan, managing organizational resources (e.g., medical supplies), ensuring appropriate levels of patient care, and leveraging local and state resources or funding.

This panel discussion will provide insight and perspectives on ways to manage an unforeseen crisis within the healthcare organization and its community. The topic will include how healthcare leaders can better prepare and respond to a community or healthcare crisis, and prepare for a health surge event or unanticipated facility and resource demands.

(Pending ACHE Face to Face Education Credits, AIA LUs, GBCI CEs, PDHs) You must attend in person to receive ACHE F2F Education Credits

Power to the Patients: How New Technology is Transforming Healthcare Delivery

The COVID-19 pandemic accelerated the proliferation and adoption of emerging technology in the healthcare industry, transforming patient services and practitioner operations. Augmented reality, enhanced telehealth, artificial intelligence, and wearables are just a few of the topics that will be discussed. Join our panel for a look at the future and discover how new technologies and innovations are personalizing and humanizing healthcare delivery for the better.
